Now that the archers of the realm have had the season to hone their skills and the Pennsic fields have challenged them, Baron Ateño and Baroness Lassar have set to task the current Baronial archery champion, Onóra inghean Uí Rauric, to find a successor. To add to the fun and skill of the day, Their Excellencies ask the brewers to bring their libation creations to be tasted and commented on. It is a great pleasure of the Barony of An Dubhaigeainn to host Arrows and Ales' August Antics on Saturday, August 25th, 2012, to test the skills and talents of the archers and brewers.

The archery challenge is open to all who wish to participate. Lady Onóra will post the rules on the Yahoo group prior to the event. Participants residing within the Barony are eligible to be the next Baronial archery champion. Those entering the brewing competition, be sure to bring your documentation on your brews. If you have any questions regarding what is needed, please contact the Autocrat, Master Jean Xavier. A delectable day board will be provided.

At Our Last Event...

The Canton of Hawkes Reache welcomed Baron Ateño of Annun Ridge and Baroness Lassar Ingen Aeda with a Summer Faire as they made one last sojourn across our lands to collect tithes on their way to the Pennsic War.

On a brutally hot and humid Saturday June 30, 2012, the Canton started the festivities once again with the ever popular Hat Auction, where members of the populace bid for the favor of a fencer as symbolized by the fencer's hat. A prize was awarded to the bidder whose fencer won the Hat Tournament. This Round Robin style tourney included differing points to be scored based on the weapons and defensive forms being fought; the better your defense the lower your possible points. There were also varying multipliers based on the Fencer's skill level; the more skilled the fencer the lower the multiplier. The winner's score was divided by the loser's score. The winning Fencer was Ronan FitzRobert, fighting with the favor of his lady-wife Sláine baen Ronáin. Humorous comments were forwarded concerning the unusual situation of a Fencer and their spouse being the winners, and so the usual conversation as to which prize went to the Bidder, and which prize to the Fencer could be so easily resolved. Both prizes went to the Wife (As they should...).

The Pas D'Arms Tournament followed the Hat Tournament. This contest placed a strong emphasis on pageantry. Each fencer in the Tournament was introduced by a herald. It was expected that each fencer's herald would be vividly over the top (as in A Knight's Tale). A prize and recognition were awarded for the best heraldry. The winning Heraldry was performed by Lady Giselle Dela Flambeau who extolled the virtues of Eanraig the Bonesetter.

The Pas D'Arms Tournament helped Their Excellencies to choose the next Baronial Champion from amongst the An Dubhaigeainn participants. This was a Simple Elimination Tourney. The final contestants were the aforementioned Ronan and Eanraig. Eanraig won the first bout, Ronan the second – which brought us to a Sudden Death third bout. It was well fought in very Pennsic-like weather conditions. Eanraig the Bonesetter proved victorious and achieved the well-earned title of Baronial Fencing Champion for the next year. He was invested with his Ceremonial Regalia at Court that same day. Humorous comments were forwarded as to how the Baronial Baldric and Scabbard would need to be adjusted to compensate for the distinct difference in height between Baron Master Don Jean Xavier Boullier and Eanraig the Bonesetter.

The Baronial Thrown Weapons championship also returned for axe, knife and spear throwing. Our current champion, John of Gravesend promised tests of skill and accuracy. There were many and varied participants as this competition was open to all members of the populace, from the freshest of throwers, to the most seasoned of thrown weapons marshals. The contestants gravely tested each other's skills, with the final standings having only a single point between first, second and third place. This year's winner and new Baronial Thrown Weapons Champion is Lord Magnus Sverre Haakson. Since Lord Magnus did not stay for court, and therefore could not be invested with his ceremonial regalia, Baroness Lassar took charge of it, and is contemplating an appropriate quest for Magnus as a penance for a Champion who has missed court.

Written by Sláine baen Ronáin meic Robeird (Pamela Petritsch)

Congratulations!!!

Fencing and Thrown weapons champions have been named at our recent "Potted" Arms event!! Congratulations to Lord Magnus Sverre Haakson for being named Thrown Weapons Champion and to Lord Eanraig the Bonesetter for being named Fencing Champion!!!! Congratulations to Ronan Fitz Robert and Miriam meic Ronan who both authorized in Dagger. Now their opponents on the Fencing List have that much more to fear.

Things I learned My First Year at

Pennsic: A newcomers guide to camping with Scadians

1. When you arrive people say "welcome home" and that's really cool
2. Effective bug spray is a myth
3. Don't expect men in the mundane world to open doors and call you "My Lady" after you get home
4. Pickles and eggs taste amazing together when it's really hot
5. The north and the south are as different as Long Island is from the Bronx
6. Beware (or not) of drinks named after colors, candy, or something cute
7. When nothing else is worn with them, a kilt and belt of exotic weapons are totally "in"
8. That's not the moon, it's the McDonald's sign in the distance
9. The road leading up from the swamp is REALLY steep
10. Best. Shopping. Ever.
11. Rules of physics do NOT apply (how did that woman in full Elizabethan get into that porta-potty?!)
12. Straw hats are still dorky even at Pennsic
13. Epic war stories really do exist!
14. During the day, East Kingdom Royal Camp is guarded by children with badger heads on sticks
15. Unicorns are everywhere YAY!
16. Strangers giving you water is totally normal (and much appreciated)
17. Nissan Maxima is a guy, not a car
18. You are not expected to curtsy to the King when he's walking around in his underwear
19. A nice basket is the new Louis Vuitton bag
20. My friends were right, you cannot describe it

From the Coronet

Greetings from Ateño & Lassar!

Greetings people of An Dubhaigeainn!

Thank you for the great event "Potted" Arms and Fancy "Faire" recently held at our Huntington site! Everyone seemed to have a wonderful time including several newcomers who enjoyed themselves as well. Thank you especially to our autocrat Lady Sorcha of Stonegrave, who as usual, planned an amazing day and of course our chef, Mistress Suzanne Neuber de Londres. I also feel that we should thank the hordes of people that helped out during the day as well. In addition, we were able to recognize two new champions, Lord Eanraig the Bonesetter for Fencing and Lord Magnus Sverre Haakson as the new Thrown Weapons champion.

As the end of our term approaches we want to begin to reproduce things that meant something to us. Hence, we hope to hold court on 'the rock' at 'Arrows and Ales'. Hopefully the weather holds out for that event. If there is something you would like to see or have us do, please let us know.

We would like to thank Lady Alissenda la Gailharda for her terrific work as Chronicler and wish her well. We look forward to lady Onóra inghean Uí Rauirc taking over and continuing a great work through our stepping down and beyond.

Pennsic, as we all know, is next month. We look forward to opening ceremonies leading through the week ending with court and the Friday camp dinner. If there is anything we can do to make your Pennsic better, let us know.

We are here to make your SCA experience better and we want to do that.

In Service,

Ateño and Lassar
Baron and Baroness of An Dubhaigeainn
